

Sources related to Judaism

Ask Moses.com. 17 Oct. 2005 <<http://www.askmoses.com/>>

If you have a question about Judaism, you can ask Moses.com! You can also find a lot of information on this site by searching through its "Quick Links" list.

"Internet Jewish History Sourcebook." Internet History Sourcebook Project. Ed. Paul Halsall. 4 Mar. 2001. Fordham University. 17 Oct. 2005

<<http://www.fordham.edu/halsall/jewish/jewishbook.html>>

This site provides a very lengthy history of Judaism.

Jewish Encyclopedia.com. The Kopelman Foundation. 23 Oct. 2005

<<http://www.jewishencyclopedia.com/index.jsp>>

Click on this link if you would like to flip through the complete contents of the 12-volume Jewish Encyclopedia, which was originally published between 1901-1906.

Langeberg, David. "Internet Resources for Jewish Studies." 28 Oct. 2005. University of Delaware. 31 Oct. 2005 <<http://www2.lib.udel.edu/subj/jew/internet.htm>>

This is a great starting point for your research on Judaism provided by the University of Delaware library.

"Religion & Ethics: Judaism." BBC. 17 Oct. 2005

<<http://www.bbc.co.uk/religion/religions/judaism/>>

Check out this site for a ton of information on Judaism!

Rich, Tracey. "Judaism 101." 20 Oct. 2005. 17 Oct. 2005 <<http://www.jewfaq.org/>>

Check out this "online encyclopedia" for information regarding Jewish beliefs, people, places, things, language, scripture, holidays, practices and customs.

Sources related to Christianity

Biblegateway.com. Gospel Communications International. 17 Oct. 2005

<<http://bible.gospelcom.net/>>

Use this site to search the Bible using a keyword, verse, or topic.

Christian Classics Ethereal Library. Calvin College. 17 Oct. 2005

<<http://www.ccel.org/>>

You'll find here a lot of online books and encyclopedias to peruse for information on Christianity, as well as a section of audio books that you can listen to.

"From Jesus to Christ: The First Christians." Frontline. 20 Oct. 2005

<<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/pages/frontline/shows/religion/>>

Use this site to find out about the early years of Christianity.

“Internet Ancient History Sourcebook: Christian Origins.” Internet History Sourcebook Project. Ed. Paul Halsall. 29 Aug. 2000. Fordham University. 17 Oct. 2005
<<http://www.fordham.edu/halsall/ancient/asbook11.html>>
If you need to know more about the history of Christianity, check out this site for a detailed account.

“Religion & Ethics: Christianity.” BBC. 17 Oct. 2005
<<http://www.bbc.co.uk/religion/religions/christianity/index.shtml>>
BBC provides a well-organized, large site containing a plethora of information about Christianity.

United States Conference of Catholic Bishops. 31 Oct. 2005.
<<http://www.usccb.org/index.shtml>>
This site houses information on everything from the Bible to Social Development & World Peace from the Catholic perspective. Check out all of the links and you just might find yourself at the Vatican!

Sources related to Islam

“Internet Medieval Sourcebook: Islam.” Internet History Sourcebook Project. Ed. Paul Halsall. 25 Feb. 2001. Fordham University. 17 Oct. 2005
<<http://www.fordham.edu/halsall/sbook1d.html>>
This site provides a very lengthy history of Islam.

Islam in Comparative Context: Online Resources. UC Berkley. 17 Oct. 2005
<<http://www.ias.berkeley.edu/orias/Islam.html>>
This is a mega-site posted by University of California, Berkley, containing lists of online resources for those who would like to know more about Islam.

“Islam: Empire of Faith.” PBS. 20 Oct. 2005 <<http://www.pbs.org/empires/islam/>>
*This site provides you with some basic background information on Islam, and also with a few clips of the PBS special: Islam: Empire of Faith.*

“Our Dialogue.” Arab News, Jeddah. 15 Jul. 2004. 17 Oct. 2005
<<http://www.ourdialogue.com/>>
You can find over 1,780 questions and answers about Islam listed alphabetically on this site.

“Religion & Ethics: Islam.” BBC. 17 Oct. 2005
<<http://www.bbc.co.uk/religion/religions/islam/index.shtml>>
This site is very organized and easy to use, and provides a lot of information on Islam.

The Koran. 7 Jan. 2000. University of Michigan. 17 Oct. 2005
<<http://www.hti.umich.edu/k/koran/>> Quran.org.uk. <<http://www.quran.org.uk/>> (17 Oct. 2005)
*You can use this site to search through the Qu’ran for a particular word or phrase.*

Sources related to Judaism, Christianity, and Islam

Institute for Christian-Jewish Understanding of Muhlenberg College. 20 Oct. 2005. Muhlenberg College 31 Oct. 2005 <<http://www.muhlenberg.edu/cultural/ijcu/>> Scroll down to the bottom of the Institute's homepage to find the "Link to resources in Jewish-Christian Relations," and follow that link to find articles, reviews, reports, official statements, and study resources on Jewish-Christian relations, as well as links to many related organizations

Michalak, Dr. Laurence. "Three Monotheistic Religions: Judaism, Christianity, Islam." UC Berkley. 17 Oct. 2005 <<http://www.ias.berkeley.edu/orias/slideshow/slide1a.htm>> Take a break from reading and check out this slide show on Judaism, Christianity, and Islam created by a professor at the Center for Middle Eastern Studies at the University of California, Berkeley.

"Religion: Three Religions, One God." PBS. 20 Oct. 2005 <<http://www.pbs.org/wgbh/globalconnections/mideast/themes/religion/index.html>> Check out this PBS Global Connections page for some brief background on monotheism and the Abrahamic traditions. Make sure you check out the bibliography for further sources!

Speaking of Faith. American Public Media. 17 Oct. 2005 <<http://speakingoffaith.publicradio.org/>> Take a bit of time to check out this website dedicated to "public radio's weekly national conversation about belief, meaning, ethics, and ideas"—Speaking of Faith. You can access site's archives to listen to, or to read, any past radio programs that may interest you. In particular, you might start with the program entitled, Children of Abraham.

World Scripture: A Comparative Anthology of Sacred Texts. Ed. Dr. Andrew Wilson. International Religious Foundation. 31 Oct. 2005 <<http://www.unification.net/ws/theme074.html>> For some quick quotes on peace, check out this link.

General Sources

Religion & Peacemaking. United States Institute of Peace. The United States Institute of Peace, established in 1984, is an "independent, nonpartisan federal institution created by Congress to promote the prevention, management, and peaceful resolution of international conflicts." Check out the Religion and Peacemaking Initiative to see how USIP is actively engaged in facilitating the "resolution of international disputes through aiding the efforts of faith-based organizations." Scroll to the bottom of the page to find the "Resource" link.

Smith, Huston. The World's Religions: Our Great Wisdom Traditions. New York: HarperCollins Publishers, 1991.

You'll notice that this is the only hardback book on our resource list; however, we hope that most of you will get a chance to read through it. You should know that many teachers recommend this book highly, so it might not be such a bad idea to head down to your local library. . .

Wikipedia: The Free Encyclopedia.

Trust me—this is the most fun/exciting/weird/intriguing encyclopedia you will ever read. Type in a search (i.e. Abraham, Judaism, Christianity, Islam), and Wikipedia will give you a detailed response complete with links to other pertinent information you might want to research as well.